ISSUED EVERY TUESDAY MORNING IN TIME FOR THE MAILS

THE DUILIO.

A Visit to the Great Italian Ironclad--A Veritable Monster.

[From the Chicago Times.]

On the evening of the 10th, the storm being at its height, I stood on the noble covered portion of the villa watching the sinister spectacle, when far out on the water there passed dimly before me what seemed a phantom ship, half fortress and half vessel. She carried only a single mast, bereft of sail, and on either side two huge round towers like the watch towers of an ancient castle. We learned that she was nothing less than the formidable "Duilio," the heaviest and largest ironclad afloat, the special pride, and justly so, of the young Italian navy.

This tremendous engine of war, like the "Thunderer" of the British navy, which I recently visited in this port, is fully ironclad. She was launched in 1876, but how different now from then! Then a simple hull, an immense empty box that towed over the sea like a mountain, now fully armed and equipped, with her engines, her telephones, her electric wires, her torpedo boats,and her four immense Armstrong guns. Each one of these monsters is of 100 ton calibre, the "Duilio" being the only vessel afloat which carries such guns. These are located in the towers, half projecting therefrom. In their vast mouths the body of a man enters and disappears. The breech looks like the cupola of a small courthouse. The charge of powder is conveyed in a sack the size of a 200 pound wheat sack; the ball is the size of one of those barrels which contain Jamaica rum; each charge has its own cart, and the vessel contains 130 charges. The breech of the cannon contains a chamber with half a barrel of water, which is uncorked after each discharge, and serves to cool the piece. It is as if a giant should take a sipof water to slake his thirst. The loading is done by machinery, and the firing also. The latter is effected from the upper bridge, there being in the hollow iron mast—the one mast which we remarked on the night of the 10th—a chamber from which the whole vessel is commanded, a vast organ under the hand of the player. Admirable is the facility with which this great structure is governed. She turns upon herself with the ease of a yawl, and answers every movement of the helm as if she were a common bark, instead of a miracle of iron-fenced power and diabolical destruction.

You should have seen us as the Admiral ship gave the signal of departure, when the "Duilio," with all hands at their places, orders given and executed as quietly as in a lady's drawing room, gently shook her iron sides, and, wheeling about like a dancing girl, put her nose in the sea and sailed from the port. The Admiral's ship just ahead—a position which she held only because the "Duilio," under orders, kept the third point of the triangle by lighting only five of her ten boilers and going at half speed—tossed and rolled perceptibly in the still heavy swell of the sea, while we might truly say we walked the waters as if they were terra firma. The motion was scarcely noticeable.

Castellamare is but half an hour's sail from the mole at Naples. As we neared her small but busy port the vessels fell into line with the Russian fleet and one or two English ships already on the ground (or rather water), and the "Duilio," swinging round with her prow to the wind, let go her anchor. The operators in the dockyard, as soon as they saw her—the child of their first love, so to speak, she being the first great naval vessel in Italy—raised a formidable cheer of delight. There was no holding them. They dropped picks and axes, stay-ropes and sledges, and plunging into boats by scores, paddled briskly out to salute the "Duilio." To see these little black boats loaded to the water's edge rowing round the white sides of the marine monster (for the "Duilio," like the "Thunderer," is painted white, as if she were an angel instead of demon), eagerly inspecting her outfit, her rigging, what part of her great cannons was visible from their station, excitedly discussing her qualities, proud of her power, proud of her sixteen knots an hour speed, and even of her coquettish white dress; to see to all this was to have an idea of the intense heartiness, the whole-souled enthusiasm, which the Italian, and especially the Neapolitan, artist puts into his work whenever that work has any point of heroic or artistic endeavor to which his ardent nature can attach itself.

While we leaned over the parapets watching the unique spectacle, the caraunseque, a heavy iron door in the poop of the "Duilio," was run up as if by magic, and out of the very bowels of the monster steamed a tiny torpedo boat, carrying the commandant and his staff ashore. It was like the lowering of a drawbridge in a fortress for a sally. The wildest applause greeted this unlooked-for sight. I afterward inspected the arrangement, which seems admirable. There are two steam torpedo boats floating in a portable basin or lake in the stern of the vessel. When the boats are to go out two heavy iron doors in the sides of the stern open. The basin is on a level with the sea, and the boats, carrying their crews, issue as it were from a grotto or cavern. Having accomplished their task, they return, are received again into their floating basin, the caraunesques close, and the great vessel, kangaroo like, carries away in safe custody her little ones. It reminds one of the forcibul simile, "As a hen doth gather her chickens."

CANADIAN WINES.—Perhaps no branch of Canadian industry has made more rapid strides in the last fifteen years than that of the cultivation of the vine. Then but a few acres altogether could be found in Canada, but now hundreds of acres are devoted to vine-culture. Above all others the wines of the Vin Villa Vineyards, of Pelee Island, occupy the highest place in public estimation. The location of the Island has doubtless had much to do with this superiority, situated 15 miles south of the most southern point of the Canadian main land and the largest of the far-famed group of grape growing islands in Lake Erie, it enjoys several weeks of mild fall weather more than upon the mainland. By the latter fact the Pelee Island Vineyards are enabled to grow the Catawba to perfection, which is an impossibility upon the Canada main. The Wines of the Vin Villa Vineyards are today to be found upon the wine lists of most of the leading hotels in Canada and are obtainable from most of the leading family grocers and wine merchants. Fell & Co. have received per steamer Idaho a shipment of the above celebrated wines. See advertisement. *

DEATH IN THE COFFEE POT.—The public are cautioned against purchasing imported California ground coffee. Its cheapness is its only recommendation. The ingredients are of the vilest description, as anyone using it will discover should he examine the grounds. During the perihelia of the planets people should be careful what they eat and drink. Don't allow your grocer to palm off his trash upon you, because it pays him better to sell it than the good article. Ask for FELL & Co.'s Coffee and take no other. *

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S
(Ex Army Medical Staff.)

CHLORODYNE

IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr J. COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the inventor of CHLORODYNE; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's.—See Times, July, 12, 1864.
The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than
DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.
This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it at all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively.
CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.
CHLORODYNE the best remedy known for coughs, consumption, bronchitis, asthma.
CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests those too often fatal diseases—diphtheria, fever, croup, ague.
CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in diarrhœa and is the only specific in cholera and dysentery.
CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of epilepsy, hysteria, palpitations and spasms.
CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in neuralgia, rheumatism, gout, cancer, toothache, meningitis, &c.

EXTRACTS FROM MEDICAL OPINIONS.
The Right Hon. Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Davenport, that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Cholera was CHLORODYNE. See Lancet, Dec. 31, 1864.
From A. Montgomery, Esq., late Inspector of Hospitals, Bombay.—"CHLORODYNE is a most valuable remedy in Neuralgia, Asthma, and Dysentery. To it I fairly owe my restoration to health, after eighteen months' severe suffering, and when other remedies had failed."
Dr. Lowe, Medical Missionary in India, reports (December, 1865) that in nearly every case of Cholera in which Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE was administered, the patient recovered.
Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera.—"So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy, that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases."
See leading article, Pharmaceutical Journal, Aug 1, 1860, which states that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the inventor of Chlorodyne; that it is always right to use his preparation when Chlorodyne is ordered.
CAUTION.—None genuine without the words "Dr J. COLLIS BROWNE" on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle

OUR VISITORS.

Sir CHARLES and Lady TUPPER and the friends who came with them to the province have taken passage by the steamer that will leave this port to-day for San Francisco. It will gratify the public to know that the party have enjoyed themselves thoroughly and that they will carry away favorable impressions of the country and people. Mr. BLAKE's fanciful "sea of mountains" has been shown to possess no existence east of the Cascades and the visitors were as agreeably surprised by the extent and fertility of the agricultural lands as they were with the extent and value of the coal and mineral lands of the island. We have not the space at our command to refer to all the topics touched upon by Sir CHARLES in his eloquent address at the theatre; but upon the great subject that is "nearest the heart" of British Columbians—the Island railway—we would say that Sir CHARLES has given forth no uncertain sound. He has recognized its necessity. That is a great deal; but he has gone further: He has said that the government will use its influence with the Syndicate to secure the construction of the road. We feel confident that the troublesome matter is approaching a solution, especially as we learn that the local government have wisely agreed to cede all the unoccupied lands lying between Seymour Narrows and Victoria in consideration of the construction of the line. We shall await the events of the next few months with considerable interest. Sir CHARLES and Lady TUPPER and their friends will be accompanied on their journey by the hearty GOD speeds of all the people of British Columbia.

Address to the Archbishop of Oregon and the Reply of His Grace.

A meeting of the Catholics of Victoria and vicinity was held on the 4th inst. Mr. H. O. Sullivan was called to the chair and Mr. T. J. Burnes was requested to act as secretary. The chairman briefly explained the object of the meeting, viz.: to prepare and present a congratulatory address to his Grace the Archbishop of Oregon City, on the occasion of his visit to Victoria. The subjoined address was unanimously adopted, and a committee was appointed, with the chairman and secretary, to present the address on his Grace's return to the city.

On the evening of the 6th inst., the committee, accompanied by a number of prominent Catholic citizens, waited on his Grace at the Bishop's residence. They were courteously introduced to the Archbishop by Mr. Burnes, the secretary. The chairman read the address, to which the Archbishop responded in his own peculiarly felicitous style and agreeable manner. The gentlemen withdrew greatly pleased with the interview.

ADDRESS.

To the Most Rev'd Charles Seghers, Archbishop of Oregon City, &c.:

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR GRACE:—The Catholics of Victoria wish to avail themselves of the opportunity which your visit to the city affords of expressing to you the sincere pleasure they feel in seeing you once more among them in good health. They can assure your Grace that neither time nor absence has obliterated from their minds the recollection of those cordial relations which existed between you and them as pastor and people. They hear with delight the triumphs of religion in the progress of your visitations over the wide area of your archdiocese. They learn with great satisfaction of the multiplication of religious communities, where the educational facilities which are provided for the young of both sexes are of a very high order; and where the principles of religion and morality are thoroughly inculcated. We beg to assure your Grace that the blank which your removal from this diocese had left, and at which we seemed inconsolable, has been so worthily filled up in the person of your prudent and talented successor—the Right Rev. Bishop Brondel—that we have become tolerably well reconciled with things as they are.

Wishing your Grace unalloyed happiness, spiritual and temporal, with the blessing of good health to enable you to prosecute vigorously your pious and learned labors; and hoping to see you often visiting our highly esteemed Bishop and clergy, we beg your Grace to believe us your Grace's most devoted servants, &c.

Signed, on behalf of the meeting, by
M. H. O'SULLIVAN,
Chairman.

T. J. BURNES,
Secretary.

REPLY.

His Grace replied as follows:

GENTLEMEN,—The pleasure you give me by coming here to-night and the joy I feel in finding myself once more among you are so great that I can hardly find words to give expression to them. Your beautiful address embodies lofty sentiments, and you have expressed thoughts in it which are deserving of praise and for which I beg to tender you my sincere congratulations. There is one thought in particular that strikes me as very appropriate; you are right when you say that morality must be inculcated simultaneously with religion. That my object ever was and is still to establish institutions for the education of the youth where religion and morality go hand in hand, is true, and I have ever found in the Catholics of Victoria that which I do not find in the Catholics of other places, good will and energetic zeal to assist me and to co-operate with me in providing for the religious education of the rising generation.

After leaving Victoria and during my travels throughout the archdiocese I thought often of you and I prayed often for you, and I thank you from my heart for the kind recollection you have of the days I spent in your midst.

You may well say that in the person of my successor you have a prudent and talented prelate, and I trust you will ever respect him and show him your love and affection. You have also a good clergy, very good priests; take good care of them and treat them also with love and affection. As for me I shall never forget you, and I leave you, carrying with me the joyful certainty that you have not forgotten me.

B. C. AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY AND SIR CHARLS TUPPER.

The National Policy Endorsed.

Mayor Turner, President; Mr. J. D. Robertson, Vice President; Mr. S. Perry Mills, Secretary; Mr. Drummond, M. P. P., and Councillor Shakespeare formed a deputation from the B. C. Agricultural Association yesterd and waited upon Sir Charles Tupper to present the following address:

To Sir Charles Tupper, C.B., K.C.M.G., Minister of Railways and Canals:

SIR,—The undersigned, officers and managers of the British Columbia Agricultural Association, present their respectful congratulations to Lady Tupper and yourself upon your safe arrival in our midst.

We trust that your recent trip to the interior will have convinced you that the natural resources and capabilities of our "Glorious Province," have been greatly underestimated at the East.

The wise "National policy" which the Ministry of which you are a member originated, has encouraged us to form ourselves into an association for the encouragement and improvement of local industries and we felt that we could not allow the opportunity presented by your visit to pass without thanking you on the successful efforts you have made to raise Canadian industry from a position of dependence to one of proud independence.

Regretting that your stay is necessarily short and wishing you and Lady Tupper a pleasant and prosperous homeward journey.

We have the honor to be, Sir,
Yours most obediently,
J. H. TURNER,
President.
J. D. PEMBERTON,
Vice President.
S. PERRY MILLS,
Secretary.
JOHN BOYD,
J. S. DRUMMOND,
C. E. GEIGER,
D. W. HIGGINS,
J. S. BOWER,
N. SHAKESPEARE,
CHARLES GOWEN.

In presenting the address the Mayor said:—I have the honor as president to present to you, Sir Charles, the address of the B. C. Agricultural Association. In doing so I will take the opportunity of making a few remarks. Our agricultural society is just starting again on a fresh basis. We had formerly local societies which have gradually fallen to decay, but we now start as a provincial society, and hope with the aid of the whole province to interest our farmers generally and eventually to become a strong organization that will prove of real use to our farmers. It may appear strange to you that I, a business man of Victoria, should be the president of this society. My friends have done me the honor of electing me to this position, why, I do not know. I have, however, always taken great interest in anything connected with agricultural pursuits, and shall continue to do so. On behalf of the society I have to express regret that you have not been able to pay a visit to an agricultural portion of Vancouver Island. I regret this the more as I feel that there is a very incorrect idea abroad of the value of the agricultural lands of Vancouver Island. We have no vast prairies ready for cultivation, but we have many thousand acres on the island of the very richest description of land that will grow everything to perfection. It is not, perhaps, a country adapted for large farmers, but it is the right place for hardy, industrious settlers, real farmers who could own their 100 to 300 acres of land. Such I take, to be the most valuable settlers a country can have. Here they have one of the finest countries in the world ready for them, possessing a most beautiful climate, rich land capable of producing the crops they can make most out of, but at present we lack settlers and until we get railway works they are not likely to come. Emigrants now will settle near roads, as they afford an easy access to and, in fact, give a good market. I have seen the wonderful development of the country between San Francisco and Omaha within the last ten years. When I first crossed the greater part of that land was like a desert. It now blooms like the rose. What may we therefore not expect in such a climate as this, with railway works and the consequent increase of population. I feel sure, Sir Charles, that the increase to the revenue of the Dominion from this source alone would, in a few years, astonish the people of Eastern Canada.

In receiving the address Sir Charles spoke forcibly in favor of the encouragement of all societies of the kind. He referred pleasantly to the endorsement of the National Policy in the address, and promised to bring the organization to the attention of the Minister of Agriculture, with a view to securing for it some substantial encouragement. Speaking of his visit to the upper country Sir Charles said he carried away a very different impression of the country from that with which he entered it. He now knew that the Interior was capable of great things in agricultural production. He had seen vast herds of live stock on the Interior prairies and he had partaken of the finest bread made from wheat raised on the virgin soil of the farming land of the Kamloops country. He was more than pleased with his trip and its results, and assured Mr. Mayor and the gentlemen accompanying him that everything the Dominion could do to meet the just rights of the Island section would be done.

The deputation then withdrew.

FUNERAL.—The last sad rites pertaining to the remains of the late David L. Ballantine were performed yesterday under the auspicies of the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society. A large number of friends and acquaintances of the deceased assembled at the society's hall at 2 o'clock p.m., from which they proceeded to St. Andrew's Presbyterian church where the pastor, Rev. Mr. Stephens, officiated. Several carriages and many on foot accompanied the hearse to Ross Bay cemetery where the burial service was concluded and the coffin deposited in the house appointed for all living. The following gentlemen acted as pall-bearers. Messrs. A. McLean, Kent, Dodd, Crawford, Jaques, J. J. Austin, Jack and Lovell.

FROM YALE.—The steamer Western Slope arrived from Yale and way ports at 9 o'clock last night with a large passenger list and a good freight. She was detained for about two hours by fog at Jeffrey's bar.

BUTTER AWAY UP.—Good fresh butter is now 50 cents per pound in this city and scarce at that. A fine chance for the interior and lower Fraser dairymen to send down a prime article and get a prime price for it.

COAL OIL has advanced 25 cents a case in San Francisco

Address of Nova Scotians to Sir Charles Tupper.

Yesterday morning at 11 o'clock about 20 Nova Scotians presented a congratulatory address to Sir Charles Tupper. Sir Charles received the deputation in the rooms of the Dominion Government agent and recognized among the number several gentlemen whom he had known in the Blue Nose country. Col. Laurie having read the address (which was signed by 115 Nova Scotians) Sir Charles replied in a few graceful remarks. He referred to the satisfaction he felt to find so many of his former fellow-citizens usefully and honorably employed in this country. Wherever he went on Island or Mainland he met Nova Scotians, and he was pleased to find that as a class they had prospered exceedingly. Sir Charles referred to the gallant officer who presented the address as a soldier who had fought for his country in the Crimea and who had been selected by the Duke of Cambridge to proceed to Nova Scotia and organize the militia force there, a task he had accomplished in a most distinguished manner. Col. Laurie, Sir Charles further remarked, was the foremost agriculturalist of Nova Scotia and would prove a most valuable member of this community. Turning to Capt. Raymur Sir Charles spoke of the great lumbering establishment which that gentleman had built up on the shores of Burrard Inlet and complimented him upon the success that had followed his energy and enterprise. Finally, Sir Charles spoke of the kindness he had received at the hands of the leading newspapers of the province and complimented the conductors for their public spirit and apparent devotion to their profession. The deputation withdrew after wishing Sir Charles and Lady Tupper a safe homeward journey.

Municipal Police Court.

(Before Hon. A. F. Pemberton.)

FRIDAY, Sept. 9.

Andrew Hayland was charged by the Captain of the barque Doxford with refusing to do duty on board that vessel on Thursday last.

Capt. McDonald on being sworn stated that the prisoner and another seaman refused to obey the command of the second officer when ordered to do a certain piece of work; they both pleaded sickness; he obtained the services of Dr. Davie on the 8th inst. who, after examination, pronounced both the men able to work; the other man went on duty, but the prisoner still refused and asserted that he was sick and could not work; prisoner had never refused to do duty before; was a hardworking seaman during the voyage out.

The prisoner, who did not appear strong, urged sickness as a plea for not doing duty and presented a certificate dated 9th inst. from Dr. Helmcken, the medical officer of the Police Barracks, to that effect.

His Honor remarked that he could not convict the prisoner in the face of Dr. Helmcken's certificate. It was quite possible that he might have been able to work on Thursday and yet be very unwell on Friday He would remand the prisoner for one day and in the meantime the two medical men could see him together and decide on his fitness or unfitness for duty on board the ship.

The sanitary case was again remanded till Tuesday next.

Marine.

The barque Xenia will commence discharging freight at Janion's wharf this morning.

The steamship Dakota, Capt. Morse, arrived in Esquimalt harbor yesterday at 3:45 p.m. from Tacoma and way ports. She brings 741 tons of freight from the Sound consisting of stave and barrel material, hoops, hides, grain, hardwood lumber, wool, &c., and will take from this port 100 tons salmon in barrels besides salmon in tins, also fish oil, wool, hides, furs, &c. Her freight is particularly heavy this trip and her passenger list large. She will leave this afternoon at 3 o'clock for San Francisco.

Steamship Hylton Castle left Departure Bay for San Francisco at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The Oregon Improvement Company are selling off their sailing vessels as rapidly as possible, as their places are now being taken by steamers. They have already contracted with persons in San Francisco for the sale of three, as follows: Ship Templar, $18,000; bark Aureola, $15,500; bark J. B. Bell, $13,500. The Great Western is for sale.

The Seattle Intelligencer of yesterday says, the presence in our harbor last evening of three large steamships was a presage merely to what is to come in the future. The Dakota, Mississippi and the Willamette ton up nearly 6000 by registered measurement. Their carrying capacity, added to that of the three large sailing ships Great Western, Majestic and Two Brothers, also in port, exceeds 13,000 tons. Another steamship, the Empire, is overdue.

American ship Belvidere sailed from San Francisco for Nanaimo on the 7th.

Steamer Alexander left early yesterday morning with the Chinese ship Ching Lat and the barque Black Diamond in tow for Moodyville, Burrard Inlet.

The Jubilee Singers.

The company will arrive to-day and will make their first appearance at Theatre Royal to-night. The company have been carefully trained, have had long experience and are among the most accomplished singers of Ethiopian melodies now on the stage. Associated with the party is John W. Carter, the great delineator of negro character.

UNLICENSED AND INEXPERIENCED PILOTS. Complaint has been made by a member of the Puget Sound Pilotage District that a young man (without certificate) has been in the habit of boarding vessels bound to Victoria and representing that he is a regularly licensed pilot of the Sound district. It would be well for officers in charge to see that none but certified pilots take charge, otherwise they run the risk of losing both ship and insurance.

THE CAPE FLATTERY TELEGRAPH LINE. A surveying party are selecting a line for the telegraph between Port Townsend and Cape Flattery and were near Pillar Point, W. T., on the 5th inst. It is with this line that it is proposed by the Dominion government to make communication opposite Victoria by means of a submarine cable.

FROM THE FRASER.—The steamer Princess Louise arrived from New Westminster at 12 o'clock yesterday. She discharged 150 barrels salmon at Esquimalt from Ewen & Co.'s establishment and brought 1100 cases from Laidlaw & Co., consigned to Welch Rithet & Co.

Puget Sound.

A rumor is current to the effect that Henry Villard has bought the entire interest of the Tacoma Land Company in the townsite of New Tacoma. Mr. V. can make or remake the town there faster than any other man living. Mr. Villard will reach Puget Sound in October.

PORT TOWNSEND, Sept. 8.—A boy named Wallace, about 14 years of age, was arrested by City Marshal Finn charged with stealing two hundred and sixty dollars in Seattle. The sum of two hundred and fifty-five dollars and a half was found on him, and he was lodged in jail to await the arrival of officer McGraw.

SEATTLE, Sept. 7.—A party of railroad officials arrived here from Portland today and have gone to Bellingham Bay and Whatcom by steamer.

PARIS, Sept. 8.—Five hundred thousand francs will be distributed among Algerians threatened with famine owing to drought.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9. — Kansas City, Mo.—Governor Crittenden arrived to night and has been in conference with the local authorities in regard to the best methods of capturing the robbers. In the interview he confesses he was powerless under the law to offer any large reward and says he has simply come to the scene of action to impress upon the local officers the importance of doing their duty and sparing no efforts to capture the robbers. The county marshals have several posses out in various parts of the county and will start out others to night.

A Times special from Independence Co. says great excitement prevails on account of the arrival of Creek Chapman and John Bingham, two of the gang who robbed the express train last night. They were arrested near the scene of the robbery, four miles from here by the sheriff and a posse from Salina country. A brother of Chapman gave them away to the officers as well as several others whose arrest will soon follow. The parties when caught were heavily armed with rifles and navy revolvers. They were identified beyond doubt by the material used in packing the bullets found on their persons, it being exactly the same as the piece of goods left at the scene of the outrage, and there is no doubt that the remainder of the gang, except the leader, reside in the neighborhood. The leader was undoubtedly the notorious Jesse James. The entire country is aroused and under arms and this and adjacent counties are being scoured in search of the fugitives. No news has come from any of the pursuing parties, except Sheriff Carson. It is believed that the hunt will result in the capture of the entire gang. Express Messenger Fox was not fatally hurt as at first supposed; but his injuries are serious. Parties who were on the train state that the money and valuables taken from the passengers will amount to at least $15,000, and the amount taken from the express safe is fully as large. It is thought that the Express Co. will not give the exact figures, and will attempt to make the loss appear much smaller than it really is.

Gov. Crittenden has sent telegrams to-day to all parts of the state ordering county officers to organize for immediate pursuit. Sam Chapman, another of the gang, has just been brought in and more arrests are looked for to-night.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—Complete returns of city elections show that the democrats have elected their candidate for surveyor and supervisor in Third and Sixth wards. With these exceptions the republicans have made a clean sweep. Sedgwick, for sheriff, has the highest majority, 3405; Blake, for mayor, has 2092, and thence majorities range down to a few hundreds. It is expected that the official count will change these figures in detail, but it is not likely to affect the result.

EASTERN STATES.

ELBERON, Sept. 9, 8.30 a. m.—At an examination the pulse stood 100. The condition of the parotid gland and and wound is improving. He was somewhat wakeful during the night but not restless, and slept sufficiently.

Gen. Swain says the president passed a good night and his general condition this morning is as good as could be expected. He ate some bird for breakfast and relished it.

ELBERON, 1.30 P.M.—At this hour the president is resting quietly ond apparently sleeping. His condition is as favorable as yesterday, and no unfavorable systems have been developed. The president expressed a desire this morning to see any members of the cabinet who desired to call upon him. Pulse 98.

LONG BRANCH, Sept. 9.—Immediate attendants upon the president exhibit most decided opinion that the improvement is likely to be permanent.

The danger at the present time inasmuch as the patient is experiencing some trouble with his throat is that the lungs may be reached by impurities originating from the parotid gland. There is no indication yet that it may have been affected. We know his heart is all right, and up to this time no indication which tend to show that his lungs are not in a healthy condition.

DELAYED DISPATCHES.

EUROPE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7—The "Herald's" Paris special says: A painful incident cast a shadow over the banquet improvised in Gambetta's honor to-day. A madman tried to force his way into the banqueting room and was only with much difficulty expelled. He declared he wanted to get at Gambetta.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—At a riot at Roscrea, county Tipperary, between the soldiers and people, several persons were injured on both sides. A number of arrests were made.

BERLIN, Sept. 7.—The German ironclad fleet has abruptly terminated manoeuvers off Eckerneford and sailed for Kien whence it will go to Dantzio to salute the foreign monarch. Most special dispatches agree in stating that the meeting of emperors will take place aboard the imperial yacht Hohenzollern on Friday.

EASTERN STATES.

EAST SAGINAW, Mich., Sept. 7.—Reports of ravages by fire continue to come in. Along the Saginaw Valley and St. Louis road, twenty-one miles burned over on both sides of the track, and thirty or forty buildings were burned, including household goods, grain and stock. Men, women and children overtaken by the flames have been suffocated by stifling heat. It is feared that when full accounts are received the losses may prove terrible. The little hamlets of Anderson, Richmondville and Charleston, in Samlac county, are all wiped out, while Port Hope, Verona Mills and Badax, in Huron county are reported wholly or partly burned up.

EAST SAGINAW, Sept. 7.—No rain in six weeks in Saginaw valley and heavy fires doing immense damage.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE.

A Lady's Hair Saved by its Use.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE will keep the hair in a strong and healthy condition by stimulating the roots of the hair and restoring the natural action upon which its growth depends. Twenty years ago a single bottle saved a lady's hair in a desperate case where everything had failed; and since that early success thousands of cases of Baldness, Dandruff, Loss of Hair and Irritation of the Scalp have yielded to this remedy. *

It is an indisputable fact that Hall's Hair Renewer renews, cleanses, brightens, invigorates and restores faded or gray hair to its youthful color and lustre, cheaply, quickly and surely. People with gray hair prefer to buy it, rather than proclaim to the world through their bleached locks that they are becoming aged, and passing on to decay. *

CARD EXPLANATORY.

WHEN SIR CHARLES TUPPER WAS DElivering his address in Theatre Royal yesterday he referred to Mr. Blake, the Leader of the Opposition in the Dominion Parliament.

I understood Sir Charles to say that he did not at one time know what to do with Mr. Blake. I said send him out here, we know what to do with him.

Sir Charles must certainly have misunderstood me if he thought for a moment that I wished to interrupt or embarrass him, or that I am an opponent of him or his party, or friend to Blake & Co.

I know full well what Mr. Blake's feelings are towards British Columbia, if I can fudge from his public speeches; and if Sir Charles can send him here, I for one would treat him as he deserves from us—as we are endeavoring to treat Sir Charles.

The Banquet to Sir Charles Tupper.

The lateness of the hour at which the banquet of Thursday night came to an end prevented a long report yesterday. We propose now to give a brief synopsis of the principal speeches, premising that they were delivered under the great disadvantage of a stifling atmosphere in a badly ventilated room. The dinner was perhaps the best ever laid in Victoria; but the room was unsuited for so large a gathering, and not a little discomfort was experienced by the guests from the heat.

The usual loyal toasts having been enthusiastically drank, vice president Drake proposed the health of the Navy, Army and Volunteers. He spoke in warm terms of the kindness of the naval force that had visited these waters and alluded to the valuable services H.M. ships had rendered in preventing Indian troubles. There is much in the achievements of the army in India and South Africa which made the blood of every Briton tingle with pride (cheers) and there were some things that caused the same blood to boil with indignation. The volunteer force, he felt sure, when occasion offered, would show the pluck that all Britons claimed as their heritage. (Cheers.)

Music—"Rule Britannia."

Mr. E. C. Baker, R. N., said he was delighted to have the honor to respond to the toast of the Navy, with which branch of the service for many years he had been connected. The Navy never failed to give a good account of itself. Its motto was—"Deeds not words." (Cheers.)

Col. Laurie, D.A.G., replied to the toast of the Army, and took occasion to speak of the excellent reputation the detachment of that branch of the service had achieved here in 1859. (Applause.) That night was the anniversary of the fall of Sebastopol, and the same men and the same officers who took part in the Crimean struggle are as ready now as then to do and to die in the service of their queen. (Cheers) The Army had not deteriorated: in proof he pointed to the recent brilliant march of Gen. Roberts to Candahar, and he did not think that the reputation of the Army was dimmed by the misfortunes in the Transvaal. (Cheers.) Before coming to this province he had been asked if he was really going to such an out-of-the-way place, but he replied that in the next great war in which England becomes involved this would be one of the great strategic points of the empire. Another objection which he heard was that the railway would never be built, and that British Columbia would be Yankee in five years, was denied by the fact that the work of construction had already been commenced on the mainland. He had never been in a province where there was less disposition to exchange the union jack for a foreign flag than in this. (Cheers.) The gallant colone concluded with a strong appeal to his harers to fill up the ranks of the volunteer corps.

His worship the Mayor replied on behalf of the volunteers, who, he claimed, were every ready to serve their country. Amid much merriment he pointed to the time when they had left their warm beds and lost half-a-night's leep to repel a Fenian invasion. He wa one of the corps himself at that time. (aughter.)

The Mayor then propsed the health of the Lieut.-Governor, wom he believed to be an honorable and orthy gentleman. (Hear, hear.) His Wonip called on the government to place Grenment House in a condition of repr and save that beautiful property from in. Mr. Cornwall was very popular nw, and he (the Mayor) believed that h would be still more popular at the end his term. (Prolonged cheers.)

His Honor the Lie.-Governor expressed his sense of the rdial manner in which the toast had bee received. He took it as a compliment id to the position not to himself, persally. (A Voice —Take it personally.) I saw about him to-night the representatis of the learned professions, of commerce, manufactures, of shipping, of politics at the press. Victoria was well represent, and the gathering was not political i its character. (Cheers.) They had assebled to do honor to a very 'distinguishegentleman and to take a broad view onatters which were of interest to the prince, but which were under Dominion ctrol. He adverted to the pride Brith Columbians felt in their province whi, he believed, embraced within itself athe resources that contributed to make ountry great. After saying that our resrces were in many respects similar to tse of the older provinces, only more extsive and richer, his Honor said that wwere proud of our climate, of our geograical position, of possessing a coast wh Canada required to secure an outlet the Pacific Ocean and, above all, we re all justly proud of our truly British gin. (Great cheering.) It afforded hineasure to be present and assist in doihonor to Sir Charles Tupper, an able anowerful advocate of confederation anone of the best friends British Colum ever had. Renewed cheers.) Sir Chas had made the transcontinental journeie had penetrated into the interior, an ad seen for himself the grand resourcof this province, and the good that w flow from his visit will be invaluable. heers.)

President Rithet proposethe health of the Guest of the Evening, r CHARLES TUPPER. (Great cheering.) Mr. Rithet said Sir Charles Tupper had r been the consistent friend of Brit Columbia, ever ready to raise his e in defence of our rights. The gonment of which he is a distinguished nber was the only one from which Bth Columbia had received any encourament. It was at their hands that the pince was confederated and by them ttransconinental railway was commenc Let us hope that to their proud lot fall the task of building the EsquimNanaimo railway. (Prolonged cheeri [Mr. Rithet here called upon Mrecretary Baker to read the address of toard of Trade, which was as follows:

TO THE HONORABLE SIR CHARLTUPPER, C.B., K.C.M.G., MINISTE RAILWAYS AND CANALS FOR TDOMINION OF CANADA.

Sir:—

The British Columbia Boarc Trade beg to express to yourself and y Tupper the gratification they feet your presence in this province, and t that your tour through the interior been a pleasant one; and that the kledge gained may be of value to yod the government you so aoly represn arriving at a proper understandif any and all questions which may ain future affecting the material wel and progress of this section of the Union.

As the only Board of Trade atsent constituted in this province, wee the honor to lay before you the wing matters relative to the interests rade and commerce of British Columbining within the control of the Federaartment of the Dominion.

The first matter of importance hich the whole of this province is deepterested is the subject of the Island ay. A subject which has been pressepon the Dominion government sinc73. Not only has the non-commencer of this portion of the Canadian Paciail-way been a great detriment to Varer Island owing to the uncertainty w it has imported into all mercantile aements, but it has also driven frur shores a large number of intenditlers consequent upon the "locking of the lands of this Island. Our persty on this subject can hardly be wondet in view of the Carnarvon settlemend the relaxation of the other terms ofn which was admitted by that settle. We feel assured, however, that the. ent government will do all that tho to remove the disadvantages under we labor in this respect.

As regards the Graving Dock, wi glad to see that this important wc now proceeding, although slowly; ar hope you may be able to urge a mor tive prosecution of this essential to province.

We regret that the government fit to remove the Dredger from Vic harbor where it was doing valuable w as the harbor is gradually "silting up," which a very small amount of steady dr ing would entirely prevent. This, at present time, is a subject of much im tance on account of the increasing s ping interests of the port of Victoria, we hope some provision will be made prosecute this work at an early peri Appreciating as we do, the improvem to the harbor by the removal of Bea rock, just completed, we trust that the maining impediments to navigation n shortly be removed, chief among wh we may mention Tuzo and Dred rocks.

The present system of pilotage distrit leads to a great deal of dissatisfaction the part of masters of vessels, owing the conflict of authorities which at prese exist in having special pilots for each d trict. Vessels as a rule call at this po on their way to Burrard Inlet and Nanain and the pilots for these ports are put much unnecessary expense in consequen of their having to maintain an addition number of pilot vessels. We recommend th some arrangement be made by which pil licenses shall extend over the three dis tricts, reserving to the different board their local authority. We have alread endeavored to arrange such a scheme bu without success.

During the visit here of Mr. Gisborne (general superintendent of telegraph and signal service), we urged upon him the advisability of laying a second telegraph cable from some point on Vancouver Island to some opposite point in Washington Territory which met with his approval (or approbation), but we are sorry to find that no steps, up to the present, have been taken in this direction, and as the winter season is approaching during which interruptions most frequently occur, we are anxious (extremely) to see the matter taken in hand without delay. This is especially desirable as it is the intention of the Puget Sound Telegraph Company to extend their telegraph system to Cape Flattery, with which the proposed cable would connect.

Whilst appreciating the "rebate of customs duties" now allowed on tin plates used in the "canning business" and exported foreign we strongly urge that the rebate be increased to an amount equal to the actual duty paid on all raw materials used, in order that the important industry of canned fish and of fish oils may be fostered to the utmost. With reference to the Washington treaty which makes provision for the admission of "fish and fish oils" into the United States free of duty we would mention that this province is debarred from the benefits of said treaty and beg to press upon the Dominion Government the necessity of providing for the extension of these privileges to the products of this province.

Under the "terms of union" the government of Canada undertook the encouragement and maintainance of quarantine matters, but beyond the appointment of a quarantine officer no provision has been made in regard to them. We recommend that in view of the large immigration induced by railway construction it is of great importance that a quarantine station should be established here without delay. We also take the liberty of referring you to the petition from this board praying for more frequent and regular mail communication between Puget Sound and this Province. We then stated that the additional service asked for (viz. a daily mail) could be secured for a slight increase in the present subsidy, and we have now no reason to change the views then expressed. We therefore solicit your hearty support in this matter. We would further point out the necessity of some general provision being made in relation to bankruptcy—this subject has been frequently urged and is a matter of vital importance to the mercantile interests of this province.

We have alluded to a great number of subjects of more or less importance in this address and feel assured that they will be referred to the proper quarter and will receive every consideration, and we trust that we may look forward in future to the annual presence of some member of the Dominion Cabinet in this Province, as the more its vast resources are examined and its advantages noted the more chance there will be of an influx of population to develop the hidden wealth of our seas, lands and rivers. We regret that your stay has been so brief but look forward to a time when you can make a more lengthened sojourn among us, and in conclusion we trust that both you and Lady Tupper will look back to this expedition as one of the pleasant memories of your lives.

For the "B. C. Board of Trade,"
(Signed) R. P. RITHET,
President.

EDGAR CROW BAKER, Secretary.
VICTORIA, B. C., 7th Sept., 1881.

Mr. Rithet continued that the address expressed the sentiments of the Board of Trade, and he felt sure that whatever Sir Charles could do he would to carry out their recommendations. (Hear hear.) The presence of Sir Charles Tupper in the province was an evidence of the interest that he felt in our behalf, and he asked the company to drink his health with "three times three," which was done enthusiastically.

Music—"Wait for the Wagon."

Sir Charles was loudly cheered on rising to reply. He said it would be difficult to find words to express adequately his appreciation of the kind manner in which he and his wife had been received by everybody in British Columbia. He was not quite sure that he had done a wise thing in bringing Lady Tupper with him. For 35 years he had been accustomed to consult his wife upon all important subjects and had learned to place a very large amount of reliance on her judgment, because it was always unbiased. But he found that she was so delighted by all she had heard and experienced here that he felt that in future, in anything relating to this part of the country, he should not be able to get an unbiased opinion from her. (Great laughter.) In all seriousness he might say he should never forget the pleasure he had experienced in visiting British Columbia, and he regretted that his stay could not be longer. He hoped, as the address just read asked that members of the Dominion Government would more frequently visit British Columbia. When he returned and made his report the only question that would disturb the harmony of the council board would be, who shall visit British Columbia? All would be anxious to come (laughter). No government could discharge its duty to this most interesting province without knowing more about it than they now do. He had sat down to festive boards in Canada, England and the United States, but never had he been so unequal to resist the temptation set before him to-night. Such delicious food as he had just partaken of was not equalled in any other part of Canada. The fame of the Driard House had reached him before he reached British Columbia, and nature had furnished the cook of that estabilshment with numerous articles on which to exercise his art. There was no section of the country where people enjoyed life more than in this, where people seemed so able to live in comfort and luxury, where the laboring man was able to sustain his family in comfort. He was entirely unprepared to meet such a body of gentlemen as he saw about the board to-night, and he should carry back with him the deepseated conviction that in doing their duty by British Columbia the Government would be doing its duty to the rest of Canada. (Cheers.) He was lelighted to know through the means of he address the views of the f the members on the various subjects ouched upon. He would lay those views efore his colleagues, and discuss them t length, and all that they could do in e interest of the whole country to adance the interests of the province would done, willingly and satisfactorily. heers.) The absence of one subject in e address touched him more deeply an anything that it contained. That ls the absence of complaint of the fiscal icy of the Dominion. The generous timent that prompted them to refrain m complaint was all the more appreciated because that policy pressed more vily upon British Columbia than upon other province. (Hear, hear) He joved that in that policy lay the germ uture prosperity of British Columbia. arranging their fiscal policy the government had had no choice. Under the former policy Canada sunk day by day and without a change it would have been impossible for the government to even consider the question of a transcontinental railway. The country had either to retrograde or progress. The opposition had prophesied the failure of the fiscal policy; but every industry had been stimulated by it, and on the first of July last in place of a deficit the government had the pleasure to announce a surplus of from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000. (Cheers.) One of the first duties of the government would be to give back to the people that surplus in the remission of taxes. (Cheers.) The government were told that if they carried this fiscal policy they would be unable to raise money in England; but Sir Charles showed that they had raised the credit of Canada and that to-day bonds which Sir Richard Cartwright sold at 90 were held at 105 in the London market. (Cheers.) They were told that they would exasperate the United States by the imposition of a high tariff and that some fine morning the Americans would cross the line and gobble up Canada. (Laughter.) By adopting the protective policy of the United States Canada had paid that nation the highest compliment—because the highest possible compliment that can be paid is imitation. (Laughter.) He eulogized the United States for their national policy and for paying off their great debt the adoption of that policy. The future of the two countries would be one of friendly commercial rivalry. The day would never come when an unfriendly shot would be fired between the United States and Canada. (Cheers.) There was not a Briton who was not horrified at the dastardly attack on President Garfield. (Hear, hear.) He did not wish to see Canadians become hewers of wood and drawers of water for Americans and the protective tariff had preserved them from that. The protective tariff was the only means through which a reciprocity treaty could be secured with the United States. In the most influential circles in the States an effort was being made to get a reciprocity treaty, and Sir Charles predicted that before three years there would be reciprocity in coal between the United States and Canada. He need not tell them what that would do for British Columbia. (Cheers.) The people of the United States had a great appreciation of No. 1, and it was hard to make a bargain with an American unless he was to get something in return. (Laughter.) After the look he had had of British Columbia Sir Charles said he would not rest satisfied until he returned again to make himself better acquainted with the country and the thrift and enterprise of its people.

After the cheering which followed this eloquent speech had subsided, Sir Charles rose and proposed the healths of the President, the Vice President, the Secretary and the Board of Trade. He said he admired the president as the architect of his own fortune. He did not know whether he was born with a silver spoon in his mouth, but if he was he had swallowed it. (Great laughter.) He had begun at the lowest rung of the ladder and by enterprise, energy and intelligence had reached his present leading and commanding position. (Cheers.) The government would regard recommendations coming from the board with consideration and as far as possible would carry them out.

Mr. Rithet returned thanks to Sir Charles' remarks concerning himself personally and of the board collectively. He felt confident that every recommendation of the body would meet with careful consideration and proceeded to show that every recommendation the board had yet made had been carried out. (Cheers.)

Mr. J. H. Todd said the night was far advanced and the room badly ventilated, he therefore would not inflict a speech upon the company, but would content himself with proposing the health of the Dominion Government, Senate and Canada.

Music—"Red, White and Blue."

Sir Charles Tupper said he was afraid they would think they were about to have too much of "Tupper's Proverbial Philosophy." (Cries of No, no.) He thanked the guests for the cordial manner in which they had drank the toast; but at the same time would remird them that it did not mean that those who drank it were in accord with the policy of the ministry of the day. It was merely a recognition of the executive of the country. He had himself proposed the health of the government of Canada when Mr. Mackenzie was in power, and he had on one occasion proposed the health of Mr. Mackenzie; but he believed he had had the bad taste to say that there was one position which that hon. gentleman would fill with great credit to himself and benefit to the country, namely, that of leader of the opposition. (Roars of laughter.)

Senator Macdonald said he had come to do honor to the guest of the evening. He congratulated the company upon the good impression they had made upon their visitors. The friends of the country were in power at Ottawa, and whatever our grievances might be the government would do their best to redress them. The Senate was an honorable and useful body, and no member thereof had left a brighter record there than the gentleman who had recently been raised to the position of Lieut.-Governor. (Cheers.)

Mr. J. D. Pemberton proposed the health of the local Government and the Legislative Assembly in a few appropriate remarks.

Hon. Mr. Walkem said he did not accept the toast as an evidence of fealty to party or admiration of the policy of the government. He took it in the sense that Sir Charles Tupper had just explained. He then eulogized Sir Charles Tupper, comparing him to the late comet, which, seen in all its brilliancy, is lost forever in a month. (Cries of "No, no.")

Sir Charles Tupper — Not forever. (Laughter.)

Hon. Mr. Walkem adverted to the remarks of Sir Charles at the theatre in the afternoon, and said he felt impressed with his earnestness and declared that Sir Charles Tupper's highest wish was to see confederation accomplished by the establishment of the terminus at Victoria. (Cheers.)

Hon. Mr. Beaven and Mr. Speaker Williams briefly returned thanks for the honor done them by the toast.

Mr. Secretary Baker proposed our other guests, coupling with the toast the names of Hon. Dr. Parker, Andrew Robertson, Esq., and Col. Clarke.

Music.—"Should Auld Acquaintance be Forgot."

Hon. Dr. Parker expressed his thanks and that of the party for the great hospitality they had met here and the delight they had experienced. He found that many Nova Scotians had settled in British Columbia and he had yet to meet the first one who wanted to return to his own country. (Laughter and cheers.) He next alluded to our magnificent mountains, glorious climate and illimitable resources. The mountains of Nova Scotia were but foothills and the timber but walkingsticks compared with those of British Columbia. (Laughter.) He was pleased with the loyalty of the people towards Canada. He had once described himself as a Nova Scotian; but now he spoke of himself as a Canadian. (Cheers.) The people should be proud of their country. The American had talked and written millions of people into their country and Canadians should follow their example. (Cheers.)

Mr. Andrew Robertson, of Montreal, said he was glad to be present at the banquet. For 25 years he had been connected with the Montreal Board of Trade. For several years he was its president and had the honor conferred upon him of being elected president of the Dominion Board of Trade. While president of the Dominion Board of Trade he had got the Board of Trade of Chicago to acknowledge the error of repealing the reciprocity treaty and to put on record the opinion that the treaty should be re-enacted. (Cheers.) Last year when down in Pennsylvania he found the coal men were of opinion that Canada was quite right in placing a duty on coal. The address read to-night suggested that something should be done with regard to an insolvent law. He had for many years favored a law that would allow every creditor to share and share alike in a bankrupt estate and thought the matter should be made a test question at the next election. He hoped the Board of Trade would take up the subject heartily. Sir Charles Tupper and his friends had come to spy out the land—to scale the highest mountains and stand on the verge of the steep precipices ; to feast their eyes on the grand scenery and revel in the delightful climate. They had gone to the Mainland, and after passing Spence's Bridge thought there was more hope for the country than they did before reaching that point. This province was indebted to the present Dominion government for the railway and confederation. In common with others of the party he could not say too m ich in praise of the people for their hospitality and kindness. Mr Robertson concluded his few remarks with the following exquisite quotation:—

"We dearly love those ocean isles
Where Britain's monarch reigns;
We'll ne'er forget the good old blood
That circles through our veins.
Old Erin's name, old Scotia's fame,
And haughty Albion's powers
Reflect their matchless lustre
On this CANADA OF OURS."

Colonel Clarke made a few pleasant remarks,

After which

Mr. Robert Ward complimented "The Press" upon its enterprise, spoke of its powerful influence, and proposed its health.

Mr. D. W. Higgins responded briefly.

Mr. Lowenberg proposed "The Ladies" in well-chosen and elegant terms, and

Mr. D. M. Eberts having responded in a similar strain,

The gathering broke up with cheers for The Queen, Sir John Macdonald and Sir Charles Tupper.

New Westminster High School.

At a meeting held in the lecture room of the Methodist Church on Friday evening, the Rev. E. Robson reviewed all the circumstances in connection with the inception and progress of the high school started about a year ago under the auspices of members of the Episcopal, Presbyterian and Methodist Churches in New Westminster. The school was established at a time when every effort to induce the local government to give that city a public high school had failed notwithstanding the acknowledged necessity of such an extension of the public school system. From a very small beginning, under many discouragements, the institution has been gradually gathering strength till the pupils (male and female) now number 29, with a certain prospect of several additional ones in the near future.

The committee of management were particularly fortunate in securing the services of a gentleman as principal who, by natural adaptation to and a life-long training for the profession of teaching, is eminently fitted for the post which he has satisfactorily occupied from the commencement of the school. His colleague is the eldest daughter of the late Rev. E. White, for many years so well and so favorably known as one of the first missionaries in British Columbia. Miss White was well advanced in scholastic attainments before the family returned to Ontario, since which time she graduated in one of the foremost ladies' colleges of that Province and immediately took a high position as a teacher in modern languages, belles-lettres and music in her Alma Mater. Under such arrangements this school cannot but prosper and in the near future will become a college ready to affiliate with a British Columbian or any other university.

Mr. Robson's interesting statement was followed by a few remarks from Rev. J. Hall and others, and a resolution was unanimously adopted to bring this seminary of learning to the favorable notice of the district meeting now in session in this city.

Concert.

A very successful concert was given last evening at Theatre Royal by Miss Lester, Miss Shutz and Mr. Nathal. The rendition was very fine and the encores were frequent. It will be a long time before Victoria will have another opportunity of listening to such talented artists.

DEATH OF R. C. JANION.—R. C. Janion, senior member of the firm of R. C. Janion & Son, Portland and Victoria, died at his residence near Liverpool on the 11th August, in his 66th year. He stood high in the commercial world and in company with the late Henry Rhodes established the Mercantile house in this city in 1859, which is still doing business here.

THE managers of the Agricultural Society met last evening and appointed a committee to wait on Mr. Payn and ascertain the terms on which his grounds can be obtained for fair purposes. Messrs. Shakespeare and McBroom were appointed a committee to issue tickets of membership and receive subscriptions. Another meeting will be held on Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

YALE ITEMS.—The Sentinel says there is no distress at Yale except among those who will not work....The burned district is being rapidly covered with new buildings....R. B. Bremm, battery man at the Big Tunnel, lost the thumb and forefinger from the right hand while fixing exploders...."Old Andrew," the woodman below Hope, died on Monday morning.

HOMEWARD. — Hon. Mr. Mackenzie, Lieut.-Col. Gibson, captain of this year's Wimbledon team, and Mr. Justice Proudfoot sailed for Canada yesterday. Sir John Macdonald, the Canadian premier, will sail for Canada in September.—Globe, 26th ult.

The Yale Fire.

We are the sole agents in British Columbia for the J. and J. TAYLOR, Toronto, Safe Works. These safes have alll the modern improvements and are now made to withstand a fire equal to that at St. John or Chicago. The non-conducting flange is the latest of these improvements and has been adopted after the most severe tests of its fire-resisting qualities. Instead of castiron they now use galvanized homogeneous steel which is much stronger and tougher.

This new style of safe having so many practical advantages can be recommended as the best in the market.

STALHO-CHUCK MINING FLUME COMPANY,

YALE BRITISH COLUMBIA.

THIS COMPANY IS ORGANIZED AS A PRIvate Company by Ernest B. C. Hanington, M. D., Thos. H. White, C. E., and William Teague, Esq., in Five Thousand Shares, with the intention of bringing water for mining purposes by means of a flume from the Stalho-Chuck Falls to the Flat opposite Yale.

This Flat is very extensive, and recent prospects by experienced miners have proved it to be very extremely rich in

ALLUVIAL GOLD DEPOSITS,

But also to be without doubt a continuation of the CELEBRATED HILL'S BAR LEAD.

The Flume, which is now nearly constructed, will carry One Hundred and Forty-Four inches of water, which, at the usual rate of charges, will yield a

DAILY INCOME OF AT LEAST TY DOLLARS

After making allowances for waste and cost of maintenement.

This amount would be doubled by supplying the same quantity of water to miners during the night. Of the Five thousand Shares Four Thousand are taken by the promoters and

ONE THOUSAND ARE OFFERED FOR SALE

AT THE NOMINAL PRICE OF

$2 50 PER SHARE,

FULLY PAID UP AND CLEAR OF ALL LIABILITIES.

There is no doubt among miners that the Gold Deposits will yield from FIVE TO TEN DOLLARS TO THE HAND for years to come, and the Directors of the Flume feel confident that the enterprise is beyond a speculation and that large profits may be counted upon by the Shareholders.

Applications for Shares must be made either to the President or Secretary before the 30th September next, when the books will be closed.

Intending Subscribers desiring information should address the Secretary.
